WORKSHOP ITEMS:

A. Proposed Racepath Neighborhood Revitalization Plan. Wallace Evans, Executive Director of A Father’s Place, gave a power point presentation on a proposed Racepath Neighborhood Revitalization Plan. Joey Taylor, Vice-Chairman, and Board Members Frank Clark and Mark Burlinson were present in support of this request. A Father’s Place, located in the Racepath Community, serves as a resource center with the main program being its Employment Boot Camp. Mr. Evans was at this meeting to request the City of Conway’s assistance to implement the proposed revitalization plan, a 3-5 year project. Evans reviewed the mission and programs offered by A Father’s Place, not only services provided to its clients but also to the community and he explained how these services could expand in the much larger facilities of the Racepath police substation. The revitalization plan, as developed, is based on a partnership of A Father’s Place, the City of Conway, Horry County CDBG, and other private partners, and proposed to be implemented in phases:

Year 1: Repair roof of police substation on Racepath. Improve lighting.
Year 2: Expand building. Acquire former snack bar adjacent to building; demolish and replace with parking lot.
Year 3: Establish a City park on Freeman lot or Lattimore lots (2) for children 12 and under with a maintenance agreement with the City to maintain the park under A Father’s Place landscape training program.

Evans presented an estimated budget to finance the Racepath Neighborhood Revitalization Plan: $182,000 in County CDBG funds to purchase the adjacent restaurant and beauty salon, rehab the substation, acquire the former snack bar building, and contract professional services for the parking lot (the cost to pave the parking lot was not included); $165,000 in City/other sources, included $130,000 for market value of the police substation, $10,000 for professional services for the park, and $25,000 to acquire property for the park. Evans reported that donation of the substation or a long term lease of at least 25 years would be required for CDBG funding. He further advised Council that, at present, the facility used by A Father’s Place is available for community use and that tradition would continue at the police substation if the plan came to fruition. Plans for use of the restaurant and beauty salon adjacent to the substation is to offer a culinary and barber training program and plans also call for implementing landscaping and construction training programs. No commitment has been made regarding the sale/lease of the restaurant/salon, the snack bar or property, or property for the park. Another workforce development goal is to provide assistance in further promoting the existing GED program. During Council’s discussion, concerns mentioned included the vagueness on details, in particular, there was no firm commitment for present or continuing financial support of the program; that the park should be a Father’s Place park and it should not be considered a “City” park; park maintenance should not become city staff’s responsibility; it would be helpful if a lease agreement could include an annual progress report to be made by A Father’s Place to Council. Outcome: There appeared to be some support for the revitalization plan but prior to consideration by Council, Evans will need to work out details of the proposal with staff’s assistance and based on input from Council’s discussion.

B. Selection of 2014 Christmas Card Contest winner. Hughes presented the top five cards selected by staff from the 65 entries in the City’s annual Christmas card contest. Each Council member was asked to pick his/her choice for the winning entry. The winning contestant will be notified by the City and invited for recognition at the December Council meeting.
